ANDERSON WILL REFUSE LICENSES TO THREE CAFES

Commissioner Says Congress, Cambridge Court and Hofbrau Have Bad Reputation.

PATROLMEN AT HEARING

They Tell How Girls Visited Their Table at the Cambridge Court.

After hearing testimony regarding the character of the Cambridge Court and Congress cafes, and the policy of the managements, Excise Commissioner Anderson told a Post-Dispatch reporter Monday that he had, to his mind not a purpose, made up his mind not to issue their saloon licenses, or that of the Hofbrau Cafe, whose case he has not yet heard.

His decision, he said, was due to what he termed the unsavory reputation of the places. The license of the Congress, on Sixth street, near Pine, expired Sunday; that of the Cambridge Court, Seventh and Locust, expires Tuesday, and that of the Hofbrau, at 217 North Tenth street, expires Feb. 22.

President McPherson of the Police Board attended the hearing in the Cambridge Court and Congress cases, the former of which was taken up first.

Patrolmen Elcheberg and Keister told of two visits which they had made, in plain clothes, to the Cambridge Court. On the night of Feb. 5, they said, they took a table there, and at their suggestion, a waiter called a girl from another table to the one at which they were sitting. They told of the girl's conversation with them, and said they had to make an excuse to get away, saying they were married men and had to go home.

While they sat there, they said, they saw waiters directing women to various tables, where men were seated. The waiter later told them, they returned, and the same girl again came to their table, and when they again excused themselves, she spoke angrily, and in unbecoming terms, to them.

Herman Mack, manager, who was represented by Attorney Alphonsus Howe and A. A. O'Halloran, was called, and was asked whether reputable women frequented the place. He said it was a public place, and that he did not assume to cater to the best society in St. Louis, but sought "popular business."

Mack said he never heard a waiter direct a woman to a table where strange men sat, and that if he saw such an occurrence he would discharge the waiter "so quick it would take his head off."

When asked whether the head waiter did not serve as an information bureau for man customers, in forming acquaintances with women, he said the head waiter, Pat McEnerny, had been with him five years and that he was sure the suggestion was unfounded.

He said he had, several times, told women that their future presence in the cafe was not desired, and he said it was his practice to do this whenever he noticed that a woman appeared there night after night, with a different man each time.

The testimony as to the Congress Cafe, of which Joseph W. Duffy is proprietor, related to a transaction in which a $25 check figured. Special Officers Chrimmer and Campbell said they had been told that a woman, who had received this check from a man she met in the Congress, had cashed the check through the cafe management, and that a man in charge, not Duffy, had insisted on receiving it, on the pretext that he enabled the woman to meet the man.

Anderson continued the Congress hearing until Tuesday, so as to hear the woman, whose name was given as Maie Laidell of the Model Hotel, Fifteenth and Market streets. He granted a continuance until Friday to the Hofbrau management, and took the Cambridge Court case formally under advisement.

He told, informally, of the decision he had reached as to all the cases.

COMMERCE BOARD AGAIN DELAYS RATE INCREASE

Proposed Five Per Cent Advance by Eastern Roads Suspended Until Sept. 12.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The proposed five per cent freight rate advance by Eastern railroads, suspended by the Interstate Commerce Commission until March 15, pending investigation, were again suspended by the commission today until Sept. 12.

The commission resumed formal hearings. Protests against any increase in rates on glass were made by concerns in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Virginia, New York, Ohio and Indiana.

PRESIDENT BACK AT WORK

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—President Wilson was back at his desk, somewhat hoarse but apparently recovered from the cold which kept him in bed last week.

CHURCHES CALLED BUSINESS PLACES

Couple Against Whom Injunction Is Asked Term Two Edifices "Nuisances."

Arthur L. Mustoe and his wife, Salome, who conduct a boarding house at 5024-25 Washington boulevard, in an answer to an injunction suit Monday, intimated that they will try to prove in court that two churches are places of business and therefore "nuisances" under the terms of restrictions applying to the neighborhood. Neighbors have asked that the Mustoe boarding house be enjoined.

In the answer it is alleged that the persons seeking the injunction have waived their rights as to neighborhood restrictions by permitting certain "places of instruction and entertainment" to be operated there. They allege that the instructors and entertainers receive pay for their work and this puts these places in the classification of business houses. The Mustoes complain that the noise of automobiles approaching these places of instruction and entertainment makes the neighborhood a noisy business district.

While the answer does not give the names of the places complained of, a lawyer for the Mustoes told a reporter they are St. John's Methodist Church and Temple Israel. They will show that Dr. J. W. Lee and Rabbi Hershman and the choir receive pay for their work of instruction under which that neighborhood, known as Dorris Place Addition, was laid out.

OTHER T. R. MARSHALL RUNS CAPITAL SALOON

Vice-President Complains That Namesake's Mail Is Getting Mixed Up With His.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Vice-President Marshall recently voiced his annoyance over the fact that Thomas H. Marshall, formerly of Ohio, who conducts a restaurant and saloon in Washington, is being confused with him in the delivery of mail. The Vice-President suggested that he either would have to change his name, or go into the "gin business." He complained that consignments of "wet goods" were being delivered to him at the Shoreham hotel.

Thomas H. Marshall's cafe is frequented by some of the most prominent persons in the political life of Washington. His name is in the fashionable northwest. When he read that the Vice-President was reported to have spoken in a sneering manner of his place he promptly wrote a letter of mild rebuke to the Vice-President, in which he told him that at least three Presidents had been guests at his place.

1 DOG BECOMES 7; HELD UP BY CUSTOMS MEN

Officials at Canada-U. S. Line Will Pass Only Mother on Manifest.

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 15.—Because a blooded English setter bought by Eugene Simpson of this city at Nanaimo, B. C., acquired six fuzzy puppies while en route to Portland, the animal and her family have been held by Seattle customs officials, according to information received by Simpson.

Simpson paid $10 for the mother dog. A manifesto accompanying her called for "one English setter dog" and the customs men declared they could not pass seven dogs on it even though six of them were only one-day-old puppies.

Simpson says he may have to appeal to Washington to get his canine family.

EMORY SMITH'S WIDOW RENOUNCES SOCIETY, TO BE NUN

Enters New York Convent to Devote Her Life to the Poor.

HER SISTERS ARE STUNNED

Former Cabinet Officer's Widow Was Noted for Her Wit and Beauty.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15.—Friends of Mrs. Henrietta Nichols Smith, who when she became the bride several years ago of the late Charles Emory Smith, editor and cabinet officer in President McKinley's administration, proclaimed her as "the prettiest, wittiest matron in Philadelphia society," learned today that she was not simply "out of town," as had been said, but was in a New York convent, preparing to take the vows of a nun and devote her life to the poor.

Her sister, Mrs. James E. Sullivan, wife of a millionaire and also prominent socially, reluctantly admitted that this was so. Mrs. Sullivan had hoped that Mrs. Smith would reconsider her decision. So, too, had other sister, Mrs. James B. Clews of Fifth avenue and Eighty-fifth street, New York, but they are convinced that Mrs. Smith will stay where she is.

She is at present a novitiate of Our Lady of Christian Doctrine in New York. It is not known exactly when she will take the veil.

"When I first learned of it I was stunned," Mrs. Sullivan said today. "We three sisters were so inseparable that it seemed like a death parting for her to go from us. And then she was so beautiful and so witty that it did not seem possible for her to make this sacrifice. When I saw her I said with anger: 'Nettie, why did you do this thing?'"

"But my resentment died out, leaving only the wish when she replied: 'Because I thought I could do so much for the poor here.'"

"Will you try to dissuade your sister from taking the veil?" Mrs. Sullivan was asked.

"No, I shall not," she replied. "She had made up her mind to renounce the world and she may have her way."

Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Dr. Romaine Nichols, a well-known physician, who practiced in New York for many years. She was married to Charles Emory Smith on Oct. 2, 1897, at the Nichols summer place at Ellersburg, N. J., the ceremony being performed by Bishop McFaul of Trenton.

Mr. Smith then was editor of the Philadelphia Press. He had been Ambassador to Russia and later Postmaster-General of the United States.

Within three months, when Mr. and Mrs. Smith were scarcely back from their honeymoon, the bride found her husband on the floor of his room one evening, dying of heart disease. He passed away before a physician could attend him.

Mrs. Smith kept generally aloof from society after that time, and devoted her life to religious and charitable work.

Trains Kill Fugitive Treasurer.

GALVESTON, Tex., Feb. 15.—Thomas Cox, former County Treasurer of Brown County, died in a hospital here last night from injuries sustained when he fell from a train. Cox was charged with forgery in Mount Sterling. He was alleged to have obtained $1600. A Deputy Sheriff had come here to arrest him.

BRIDGE HEARING TO END TODAY; REPORT IS DUE TOMORROW

President Kinsey of B. P. I. Will Be Chief Speaker Before the Conference.

OTHERS MAY APPEAR

Kinsey Has Opposed Abbreviated A. & M. Scheme Which Committee Favors.

Chairman Fletcher of the Free Bridge Joint conference committee, told a Post-Dispatch reporter this morning that the committee wished to conclude its public hearings in the afternoon and report its recommendations to the Council and House of Delegates at tomorrow's meeting.

The hearing was scheduled at the city hall in the afternoon, with President Kinsey of the Board of Public Improvements as the principal witness.

Kinsey has been one of the chief supporters in the administration of the Alton & Mississippi approach. In an interview with a Post-Dispatch reporter last week Kinsey admitted that the Reber approach, from an engineering standpoint, was better than the Alton & Mississippi approach, and that it was better than an abbreviated Alton & Mississippi approach, such as the committee has indicated it will recommend.

Kinsey, in a report to the Municipal Assembly last June, said the free bridge could be completed with the Reber approach extended as an elevated structure to and up into the Illinois bluffs between East St. Louis and Belleville for $200,000—which would be approximately $200,000 less than the Alton & Mississippi approach.

He declared he regarded the cost as prohibitive. City hall authorities who have followed Kinsey's course are of the opinion that he became an advocate of the Alton & Mississippi approach for the reason that he declared against the Reber approach in his campaign for election, and does not now wish to be placed in the attitude of having changed his opinion.

Frank H. Gerhart, Dr. Fletcher said, would be given an opportunity to finish the speech he started to make Saturday. The Rev. Dr. W. W. Boyd also will be heard. Dr. Fletcher said he did not know whether any other witnesses would be called, but that the committee would try to hear everybody who had any information to communicate to it.

POLICE ASKED TO ROUT CATS IN VACANT HOUSE

Woman Gets Permission, However, to Lead Neighbors in Attack on Feline Colony.

Mrs. Sophie Bernard of 3057 Horton place telephoned to Police Chief Young Monday morning asking him to send a squad of police to her home at once.

"What's up?" asked the Chief.

"Mrs. Bernard explained that she wanted the police to kill a colony of cats that had taken possession of a vacant house adjoining her home and kept the neighborhood awake all night."

The Chief said he was sorry but the department did not take a hand in raids of that sort. Mrs. Bernard asked if he might lead her neighbors in an attack on the cats, received permission and hung up the phone with the declaration: "Good; We'll put them out in a hurry!"

"Is this the River Styx?" asked the shade.
"Yes," replied Charon, the ferryman. "Jump right in and I'll take you across in about two minutes."
"You don't mean to tell me you're straight across the river?"
"Yes, I take the most direct route."
"Sorry, but I won't ride with you."
"How's that?"
"I want to get there the worst way. Your route is too direct."

Blind Senator Who Testifies He Did Not Attack Woman; Wife Who Attends Him in Court

SENATOR THOMAS P. GORE.

POLICE FIND MAN ACCUSED OF THEFT OVERCOME BY GAS

Letter Charges Salesman With Embezzling $200 From Flour Company.

A letter was received by the police Monday from the Best Flour Co., 95 North Second street, asking for the arrest of Philip Egly of 2619 Park avenue, on the charge that he had embezzled about $200 of the money of the firm with which he was employed as a salesman.

When detectives went to Egly's home at noon, they found him unconscious from gas poisoning and under the care of Dr. Ben Shanklin of Jefferson avenue and Alton place. He had been found by a neighbor who had called the police.

The letter did not relate any details as to the alleged embezzlement. Egly is 43 years old.

The detectives reported that Egly was unmarried and roomed at the Park avenue address. He was found unconscious by a fellow roomer, and a physician called.

SUFFRAGETTES FIRE BIG CANNON, TOWN SHAKEN

Piece, Silent 60 Years in Park, Sounded at Night to "Wake Up" Blackburn, England.

BLACKBURN, England, Feb. 15.—Millant suffragettes today fired a huge cannon captured from the Russians in one of the battles of the Crimean War. For 60 years it had stood silent as an ornament in the city park.

The whole city was shaken by the explosion and people flocked into the streets in the darkness, fearing a mine disaster had occurred in the neighborhood. It was not until daylight that the cause of the explosion was discovered.

In the vicinity attached to a tree a long strip of calico inscribed: "Wake up, Blackburn. The labor party, which claims to stand for justice and freedom, supports a Government that tortures women under the infamous 'cat and mouse' act." The idea of the militants was to rouse the cotton workers of the city to support their propaganda.

GORE TESTIFIES MRS. BOND SEIZED HIM AND SCREAMED

Blind Senator Swears T. E. Robertson Burst Into Washington Hotel Room as Woman Pulled Him—Denies He Offered Indignities to Her.

"DID NOT PROPOSE MONEY SETTLEMENT"

Declares Mrs. Bond Met Him in Lobby and Led Him to a Room, Saying Parlor Was Crowded—Had Refused to Aid Husband.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Feb. 15.—United States Senator Thomas P. Gore brought the trial of Mrs. Minnie E. Bond's $50,000 suit to a climax today by taking the witness stand in his own behalf and denying all charges that he had offered indignities to her. The defendant Senator gave his own version of their meeting in a Washington hotel, where she went to urge the appointment of her husband to a Federal position.

The Senator denied Mrs. Bond's charge that he had seized her, declaring that she grabbed him when he extended his hand to depart, and was pulling him toward her and screaming when others of his accusers burst into the room. He declared he demanded an explanation, but that none was forthcoming from those around him.

At one time when Senator Gore was on the stand proceedings were stopped several minutes while the Court suggested to her a loud demonstration in his behalf.

When the Senator was testifying, his wife was an interested spectator and listener, as she has been throughout the trial. Mrs. Gore had occupied a seat beside her husband throughout and when he took the stand today, she watched his face closely.

Senator Blind From Age of 11. After testifying that he had been blind since he was 11 years old, Gore was asked:

Q. Do you remember, Senator, when did you go to Washington prior to the inauguration of A. N. November?

A. Do you remember meeting Mrs. Bond in the Detroit Hotel?

Q. I do. I do not remember who introduced her to me. She told me that her husband was an applicant for Internal Revenue Collector. I told her the application was useless. I never intended to go to Washington. I never intended that I would support her husband.

He then described the location of his office in Washington. He said he knew Dr. Egan and Jim Jacobson at that time. Dr. Egan was an applicant for United States Marshal. He said also Jacobson was an applicant for a Federal position.

On March 5 Mrs. Gore gave a reception in Washington and Gore arrived late. He did not know that Mrs. Bond or Jacobson was there, but said the reception was open to all Oklahomans.

"Mrs. Bond came to my office the first time about 10 days after the inauguration, when we had a conversation. I told her I would see her husband's application," he said.

"Offered No Indignities." "I told her I could not support her husband. She said: 'Then, Senator, you cannot hold out any encouragement at all.' I said:

"I never put my hand on her foot, never took hold of her hand or offered any indignities whatever."

"She called me on the phone about a week later and asked me if I could come to the hotel and see her. I told her I couldn't go. On Easter Sunday I heard from Mrs. Bond again, when she phoned me. She asked me again to come up her at the hotel. I told her I was unable to call upon her."

soner of Charles in Oklahoma. She suggested I would have better opposition in my race for re-election.

"She then answered a telephone call. I do not recollect her conversation. When she returned she resumed her seat on the bed. I told her I would have to go. I arose and extended my hand. She grasped it and fell toward the bed, pulling me. I said 'What does this mean?' 'T. E. Robertson burst into the room. Mrs. Bond had begun to make an outcry and Robertson said, 'Stop that squalling!'

"I then asked Mrs. Bond, 'What have you to say about this? I do not understand this!'

"She said, 'I don't want Bond to know you were in my room.'

"I asked Robertson what he had to say about it. His answer was unintelligible. Robertson then escorted me to the elevator. I did not attempt to take advantage of Mrs. Bond and I made no attempt whatever to attack her.

"On the following day Dr. J. H. Earp came to my office and said, 'Those people are doing a lot of talking.'

"I told him, 'Doc, if they make any charges concerning an attempt by me upon Mrs. Bond they are infamous liars.'

"Made No Offers Whatever."

"I did not ask Dr. Earp to act as my agent and I told him I would not consider his application. I did not meet United States District Attorney Clarence B. Wilson at Washington until nine months after the incident. I took no part whatever in the investigation of his department. I never talked about the matter to the Senate, President or Vice-President."

"On the next day Dr. Earp again called upon me and after talking awhile he said he understood Mrs. Bond was going home. I suggested that was a very good place for her.

"I did not know Jacobs or Fitzpatrick were in the adjoining room until after talking to Dr. Earp, who mentioned the names of both to me.

"Fitzpatrick was an applicant for Attorney-General of United States for the Department of Interior.

"He asked for my endorsement. Dr. Earp also requested the place of United States Marshal while talking to me and I told him I could offer him no encouragement.

"When Jacobs made known his application for United States Marshal for the Eastern District I told him I would not consider his application. I did not meet United States District Attorney Clarence B. Wilson at Washington until nine months after the incident. I took no part whatever in the investigation of his department. I never talked about the matter to the Senate, President or Vice-President."

"Senator Cross-Examined."

Attorney Giddings cross-examined Senator Gore. Giddings suggested that Gore hesitated when he described the occurrence in the hotel room and Gore denied it. Gore said Dr. Earp was an old acquaintance who had supported him in his race for the Senate. He denied that Earp was especially active in his campaign.

He said that soon after the election he had a letter from Kirby Fitzpatrick in which Fitzpatrick mentioned his application for Assistant Attorney-General in the Department of the Interior. He later had several conferences with Fitzpatrick in which Fitzpatrick said he had the support of the members of the Oklahoma Supreme Court.

At no time, Gore said, did he support Fitzpatrick for the position. He introduced Fitzpatrick to the Secretary of the Interior and to the Secretary of the Senate, but offered no suggestion as to his appointment.

"I do not recall asking Graves Leeper if Mrs. Bond was a beautiful woman. That is a very common inquiry for me," he testified.

Q. When was the first time you told anyone this 120-pound woman pulled you, a 200-pound man, down. A. I told my attorney.

Q. You made no outcry, did you? A. No, sir; I did not.

Asked if Case Was a Crime.

Q. Did you ever file in Washington a complaint for alleged blackmail against these parties? A. I did not, but that was the purpose of my talk with the District Attorney when I asked if the facts would constitute a crime in the District of Columbia.

Q. Why did you tell Dr. Earp you would see them before you would make terms with them? A. I did so because I understood they were intending to make charges against me and I knew they were absolutely groundless.

I never told Dr. Earp that Mrs. Bond thought like a hyena. I do not know whether Mrs. Bond's glasses were broken in the room and did not go into the bathroom for the purpose of wiping my hands.

Q. Did you ever make an attempt to make a money settlement with Mrs. Bond? A. I did not.

Q. Did you ever discuss the occurrence with Senator Hearne? A. I did not.

No Trouble With Owen.

Q. Did you let the impression in Washington prevail that it was Senator Owen who was in trouble and not you? A. I did not.

Q. Did not this cause enmity between Owen and you? A. I never knew there was any enmity between us.

Q. Did you tell the District Attorney or your brother-in-law that Mrs. Bond attempted to pull you down? A. I did not.

Q. How long have you been a lawyer? A. Since June, 1882.

Q. How is it you don't remember asking Mr. Leeper about Mrs. Bond's appearance? A. I cannot explain but I will say that I never at any time encouraged Mrs. Bond's activity for her husband.

Evidence of "Conspiracy."

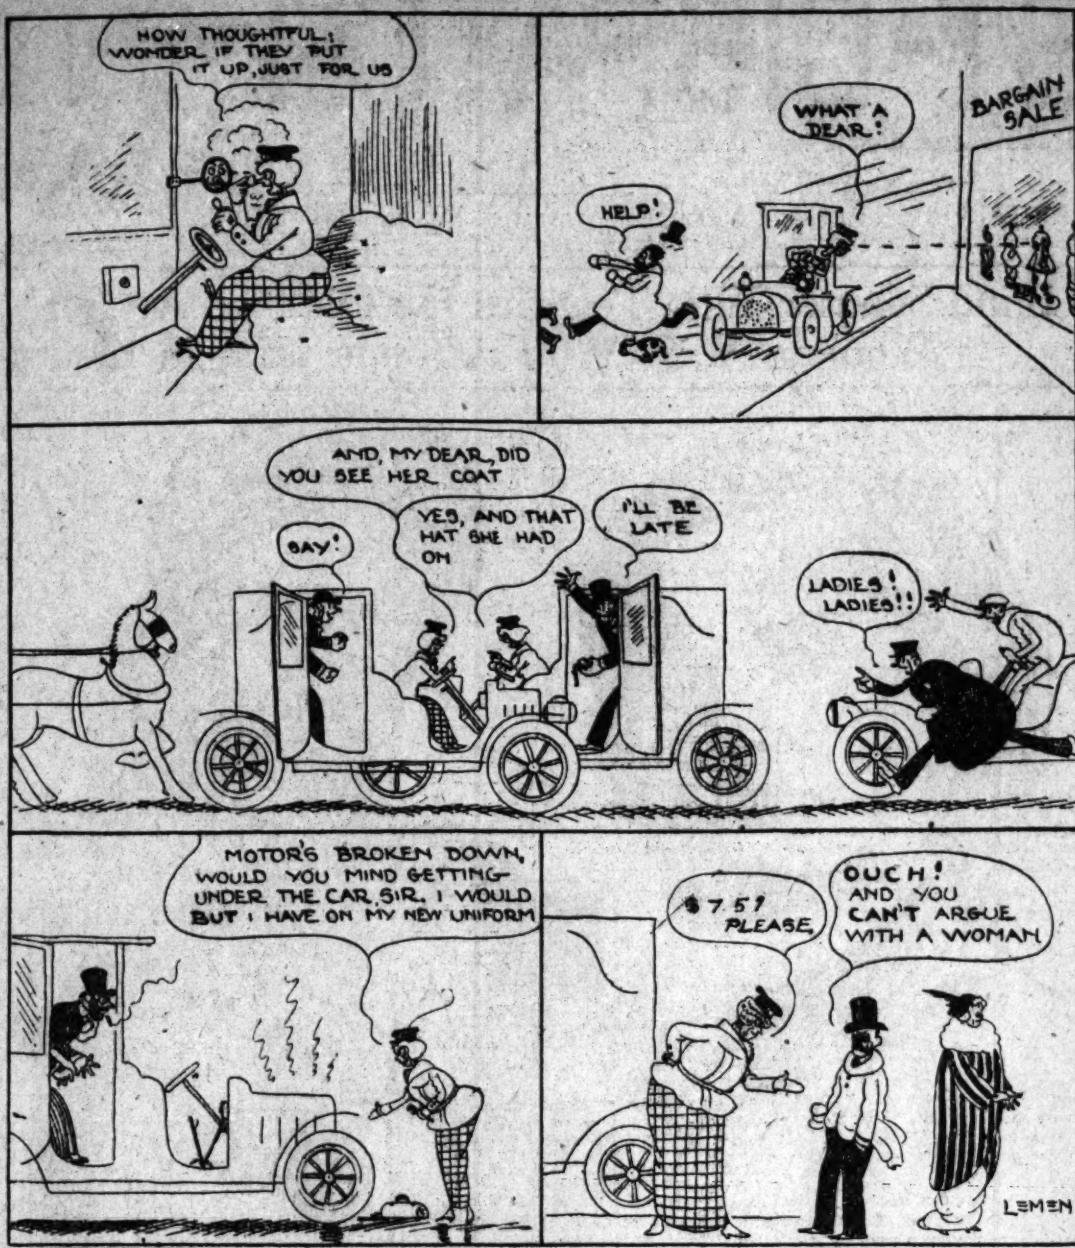

Many witnesses for the defense have given evidence intended to show that the Senator had been made the victim of a conspiracy. Threats "to get" the Senator because of a failure to obtain Federal patronage were credited to several witnesses for the plaintiff while others were quoted as admitting that the whole affair was a "frameup."

Several of the witnesses summoned for Mrs. Bond have been reserved to testify in rebuttal, among them James R. Jacobs, in whose room in a Washington hotel the alleged attack is said to have occurred. Jacobs has been prominently identified with political affairs in Oklahoma for a number of years.

The trial began Wednesday. Mrs. Bond, the first witness, alleged that Senator Gore attacked her when the two were in conference with regard to the appointment of her husband, Julian Bond, to a Federal position.

Attorneys for the plaintiff declared their case completed Friday after half a dozen witnesses had testified in corroboration of Mrs. Bond.

Women Chauffeurs in Kansas City

For the defense a dozen or more witnesses testified attempting to uphold Senator Gore's contention that he had been the victim of conspiracy carried out by political enemies and disappointed office seekers. One witness told of threats to "get the Senator" and another of an admission said to have been made by one of the plaintiff's witnesses that the whole affair was a "frameup."

Others related alleged incidents involving several of those who have testified for Mrs. Bond, which, attorneys for the defense declare, will go far toward proving the contention.

"I am sure the witnesses for the plaintiff admitted they were disappointed seekers of political patronage."

The Changing Age

Girls and boys from 14 to 19 years of age undergo physical changes which tax their strength to the utmost and the strain is always apparent from pale cheeks, colorless lips, and tired bodies—sometimes eruptions of the skin and the utter lack of the ambition and animation with which their younger years were filled.

Budding into womanhood and manhood, with the duties of school or business, demands concentrated nourishment which is readily convertible into red blood corpuscles, energy and strength, and the very best thing for this changing age is the medical nutrient in Scott's Emulsion—it possesses the rare blood-making properties of cod liver oil in a predigested form; hypophosphites for the nervous system, with the healing, soothing qualities of pure glycerine.

Its nourishing force promotes assimilation, yields direct returns in abundant red blood, fills hollow cheeks, tones the nerves, makes all good food do good, and does it in a natural easy manner.

The sustaining nourishment in Scott's Emulsion is so helpful to this changing age that it should never be neglected—every druggist has it. 12-115 Scott & Brown, Bloomfield, N. Y.

Did Not Lie Down For Five Weeks

School Girl Had Serious Brochial Cough—Cured it With Father John's Medicine.

"Three years ago I was in bed for six weeks with bronchitis. I had a bad attack, coughed all winter and was in the care of a physician."

"Last winter, when I had another attack as bad, a lady recommended Father John's Medicine. I commenced taking it in a few weeks, and since then have never missed a day in school. I owe a great deal to it as the results were most favorable. My attack last winter was so bad I was propped up in bed every night for five weeks to get a little rest."

BRITISH M. P. IS FINED $65,000; THE INFORMER GETS IT

Sir Stuart Samuel Voted in Parliament While His Firm Had Government Contract.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Sir Stuart Samuel, Radical member of Parliament for White Chapel, today was ordered by Justice Sir Sydney Rowlatt of the King's Bench division to pay penalties and costs amounting to $65,000, because he voted in the House of Commons while his firm had a contract with the British Government. The money will be paid to Dr. William Bird as informer.

This was the third suit brought against Sir Stuart Samuel under the law which gives any informer the right to claim penalties under similar circumstances. The first two suits were dismissed on technicalities.

Sir Stuart Samuel, who is a leading banker, was compelled to vacate his seat in Parliament by order of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council last year, because the firm to which he belonged had become purchasers of silver for the Indian Government.

The act of Parliament under which he was condemned today, says that a member of the House of Commons may not be even indirectly interested in any Government contract. After vacating his seat in Parliament, Sir Stuart Samuel was re-elected. He today gave notice of appeal from the Judge's decision.

EDISON TO STUDY BIRDS

Inventor to Take Six-Weeks' Trip With John Burroughs.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Thomas A. Edison announced yesterday he would start for Fort Myer, Fla., on a six-weeks' vacation, Feb. 21. He said: "Henry Ford, John Burroughs and myself are all lovers of birds. We plan to spend most of our time in the everglades studying these beautiful creatures. We shall wear little and eat lightly of good, fresh fruit, vegetables and fish."

STORE CLERK ENDS LIFE AT HOME WITH ACID

Clarence Learned, 31 years old, a department store clerk, killed himself with carbolic acid at his home, 463 Gibson avenue, Monday.

Mrs. Learned told the police her husband had been drinking heavily since Saturday and that he did not go to work Monday morning. At 10 a. m. Mrs. Learned opened the bathroom door. Her husband staggered from the bathroom and pushed past her into the bedroom, where he fell dead.

Mrs. Learned found an empty carbolic acid bottle on the bathroom floor.

2 DOCTORS WANTED ON FRAUD CHARGE CANNOT BE FOUND

Federal warrants charging Dr. Thomas P. Nichols of 18 Olive street and Dr. George Whelan of 14 Pine street with using the mails to defraud were made public Monday, after United States deputy marshals reported that efforts to serve the papers had been fruitless. The deputies say much furniture has been moved from these doctors' offices in the last few days and they are believed to have left town.

Nichols and Whelan formerly operated as the Dr. King Medical Association. The charges against them were worked up by Postoffice Inspector Winn.

No Two Weeks Police Benefit.

Again the Board of Police Commissioners has informed the Police Relief Association that the annual Field Day exhibition is sufficient financial benefit in lieu of the two weeks' vaudeville entertainment, done away with two years ago. The Police Journal quotes the board as having disapproved the Association's request for permission to renew it.

NEW YORK STATE TREASURER, GRAFT WITNESS, ENDS LIFE

John J. Kennedy, Uninformed About Own Office and Worried Over Impending Examination in Graft Inquiry, Cuts His Throat in Buffalo Hotel.

OFFICIAL AUDIT OF BOOKS ASKED BY SON

Friends, Confident That Kennedy's Affairs Are in Proper Shape, Also Join in Demand for Investigation of Them.

By Associated Press.
BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 16.—A complete inquiry into the affairs of former State Treasurer John J. Kennedy, who ended his life at his hotel here yesterday, was demanded today by his friends and relatives here. Confidence is expressed that such an inquiry will disclose that the affairs of the State Treasurer's office have been correctly administered. William H. Kennedy, his son, sent a telegram to Gov. Glynn, urging an audit of his father's accounts as State Treasurer.

"No explanation of Kennedy's act was forthcoming today other than that first given out, that Kennedy took his life while temporarily deranged and that the derangement was caused by brooding over the impending ordeal of cross-examination at the hands of District Attorney Charles S. Whitson, who had subpoenaed the State Treasurer to appear in New York today."

Made His Life at Hotel.
Kennedy killed himself yesterday at noon at the Markham Hotel, where he lived with his wife, son and daughter. He cut his throat with his razor in a bathroom adjoining the ballroom of the hotel. The body was found by his son.

It is understood the funeral will be held Wednesday morning from the Chapel of the Blessed Sacrament and that the burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery. While the Catholic faith bars suicides from certain rites of the church, this will not affect the arrangement for the Kennedy funeral, for the fact that he is believed to have taken his life while temporarily out of his mind precludes the enforcement of these rules.

Gov. Glynn's special graft probe, James W. O'Brien, through the assistant has been investigating the official conduct of the State Treasurer's office.

Knew Little About His Office.
So little did Kennedy know about the actual affairs of the Treasury office, his mind not being trained to financial matters, that he had prepared to have with him as a prompter at the John Doe proceedings one of the deputy State Comptrollers.

It is understood that when Kennedy was before the grand jury recently he was unable to answer the most ordinary questions about work of his office and could not even name the large banks of the State. These matters on the jury are said to have given Kennedy a terrible grilling.

Former Saloon Keeper.
Kennedy was born in Buffalo, July 28, 1857. He began his business career on the docks with his uncle, the late James Kennedy, a trucking contractor. In 1895 he and his uncle became partners in the business of handling all the grain that came through Buffalo on the Great Lakes. Prior to this, in 1890, Kennedy established the Vega Hotel, which in time became the headquarters of politicians of both parties.

His first political office was in 1894, when he was elected to the Buffalo Board of Aldermen. He served in this capacity from a water-front ward continuously 24 years. For years he was chief Democratic leader in the Common Council and was the constant target of reformers, who insisted that his alliance with corporations rendered it impossible for him to do the city justice.

For many years he ran a saloon and through it maintained his power in his ward. With wealth came pride and, when his son entered Cornell University, he sold his saloon, so the boy might not be reproached for his father's business.

St. Louis' Rapid-Transit Motorbus Expected to Make First Trip Tuesday

Machine to Make Daily Runs From Fourth and Pine to Delmar and Skinker.

St. Louis' first motorbus probably will make its first trip downtown Tuesday, the start having been delayed since last Friday by the year's record snowfall. It will be operated from Fourth and Pine streets to Delmar boulevard and Skinker road.

with corporations rendered it impossible for him to do the city justice.

When Kennedy quit the saloon business he became agent of the U. S. Fidelity and Guaranty Co. of Baltimore. When he became State Treasurer he severed all connection with the company and with his own insurance and bonding firm, John J. Kennedy & Co. His son, William H. Kennedy, just graduated from Cornell, took over the business, which he still conducts, but at almost immediately the company's business gained $100,000 in policies, while the previously favored company lost $100,000 in business.

Kennedy's Death Causes Postponement of John Doe Hearings.
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Because of the suicide of John J. Kennedy, State Treasurer, who was to have testified today, the local John Doe hearing was postponed until Wednesday. A number of contractors were under subpoena to appear today, but they were excused until later. The grand jury before which Kennedy was to have appeared will resume sessions tomorrow.

Accountants Report Kennedy's Books in Perfect Condition.
ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 16.—Accountants from the Comptroller's office today reported, after examining the books of State Treasurer Kennedy, that they were in perfect condition. The examination today went back only to last Monday, but at that time they were balanced by the same men who made the audit today and pronounced correct.

A complete audit of the books from the time Kennedy took office up to the date of his death probably will follow.

Hess & Culbertson Elect Officers.
Saturday night the stockholders of Hess & Culbertson Jewelry Co. held their annual election of directors at the company's offices, Seventh and St. Charles, and elected the following directors: George J. Hess, S. D. Culbertson, R. W. Hess, S. E. Bamber and L. J. Vort.

The officers elected are as follows: George J. Hess, president; S. D. Culbertson, vice-president; S. E. Bamber, secretary; L. J. Vort, treasurer. The officers were congratulated on the showing of the company for 1913, which was declared to be the most prosperous in its history.

Man Burned in Starting Fire.
Nicholas Valerno, 46 years old, of 312 North Ninth street, is at the city hospital in a critical condition as the result of burns received when he started a fire in the kitchen stove Monday morning. Clothes hanging on a line over the stove caught fire and Valerno, in attempting to beat out the flames, was burned about the face and hands.

CHARLEY. A diamond-set La Valliere or waist suit suit set for $12.00 credit at Lot 10, B. & C. Co., 55 floor, 808 N. 4th st.

The bus will carry 25 to 30 passengers at a 10-cent fare. Unlike motorbuses in service in London and New York, it is not constructed to carry outside passengers. This is principally because "roof" passengers would have to do a "low bridge" to avoid low overhead trolley wires.

The new bus is a 5-ton car, six feet wide and 20 feet long. The motors will give the machine a speed of 30 miles an hour.

The bus is built on the pay-as-you-enter plan. The seats, cushioned in black leather, are arranged along the sides and across the rear, giving plenty of aisle room. There will be no strap-hanging. The entrance and exit doors are of the folding type, with folding steps, all controlled simultaneously by the motorbus driver.

Several more motorbuses of the same type are being constructed, and the service of the Rapid Transit Co. is to be increased and extended as traffic grows.

Former Partner of Morgan Dies.
GRASSE, France, Feb. 16.—John H. Harjes, who for many years was a partner in the banking house of Morgan, Harjes & Co. of Paris, died here Sunday. He had been ill for several weeks and the members of his family were summoned from Paris last Friday. Harjes retired from active business in 1908.

Fire Started by Smokers, Arson.
ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 16.—Carelessness, particularly among smokers, in discarding lighted cigars, cigarettes and matches, resulting in loss of life or property by fire, should be made a minor degree of arson or a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment, according to State Fire Marshal Ahearn as expressed in communication which he will send to the Legislature today.

Druggist's Call Routs Burglars.
A pair of burglars tried to get into the drug store of John J. Frey, 2744 Cass avenue, shortly before 2 a. m. Sunday. Frey, who was sleeping up stairs, heard the men and opening a window saw one of them trying to "boost" the other through the transom over the front door. He called and they fled south on Leffingwell avenue.

MAN SLAIN AND ROBBED;
POSSE TAKES A NEGRO
PROCTOR, Ark., Feb. 15.—William Mackey of Springfield, Mo., was murdered shortly after midnight Sunday morning and W. L. Campbell, a negro lumber worker, is held by Crittenden County authorities. Mackey was shot in the heart with a pistol and robbed of $100.

Campbell was arrested early Monday morning after a posse and bloodhounds had trailed him to a boarding house two miles from town.

At Proctor, where deputy sheriffs and others caught the train, there were 25 men with a rope to hang Campbell, but the officers with pistols kept them off.

Reports say 30 armed men are getting ready to storm the Crittenden County jail tonight.

GRANDDAUGHTER FINDS WOMAN, 75, BURNED TO DEATH

Body Discovered at Midnight When Couple Return Home From a Wake.

Mrs. Angela Mariano, 75 years old, a widow, was found burned to death in her home at 2106 O'Fallon street when her granddaughter, Mrs. Frank Kalinsky, and husband, who also live at that number, returned from a wake about midnight Sunday.

The dead woman lay in front of a stove in a middle room, most of her clothing burned away. The door of the stove was open, and the handle of a coal shovel protruded. It appeared that the woman attempted to transfer a shovelful of hot coals from the stove in the middle room to the stove in her own room, and in so doing set fire to her clothing.

Mrs. Mariano usually carried about $200 with her, the police were informed, but none of this sum could be found. There was no indication the house has been entered during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Kalinsky. The body was taken to the morgue.

New French Party Opens Campaign.
HAYES, Feb. 16.—What politicians consider to be one of the most exciting electoral campaigns of the Third Republic, has been opened here by the Briandist party, a new political organization composed of many Republican Senators and Deputies. The object of the Briandists, as stated by its organizers, is to put the good of France as a whole before consideration of local politics.

MEDICAL STUDENT GIVES HIS BLOOD TO SAVE LABORER

Volunteers for Operation at St. Mary's Hospital.

Corwin S. Mayer, 23 years old, a senior medical student at St. Louis University, is recuperating at his home, 2025 Lafayette avenue, from the loss of blood which he gave to save the life of a patient at St. Mary's Hospital Saturday.

The patient was Antonio Baroni, 22 years old, an Italian laborer. He was admitted to the hospital three days previously, suffering from an affliction which had resulted in the loss of much blood. His condition became worse and the hospital physicians decided on an operation. The operation was successful, but owing to the patient's weakened condition he did not rally. Physicians decided that a blood transfusion was the only means of saving the man's life.

Volunteers were called and Mayer, who was on clinic duty at the hospital at the time, consented to give his blood. Accordingly an incision was made in Mayer's left arm and the blood withdrawn by means of a transfuser; and immediately injected into the thigh of the patient. The patient rallied and physicians say that he will recover.

Another scientist condemns the light bottle

We reprint an extract from his opinion rendered in the interest of science.

"The beer in the white glass bottle had taken on disagreeable odor and taste and was absolutely undrinkable. The beer in the dark bottles did not show this peculiar odor and taste." (G. Beck.)

Translation of Extract from Zeitschrift für das Gesamte Brauwesen, 1882—page 370.

Dr. Robert Wahl quotes Beck in corroboration of his own opinion, to the effect that beer in light bottles will become undrinkable when exposed to light.

RELEASE THE DAMMED-UP BILE

That's the Only Way to Relieve Your Bile and Aches.

We try to express this thought with such words as Clogged Liver—Laid Liver—Inactive Liver, and the usual common expressions, but it does not state the fact. The fact is that Bile, Nature's own antiseptic and disinfectant, is dammed-up so that it flows feebly or not at all. The first evidence you have is a headache—a coated tongue—or dizziness—or all of these. You sometimes wear it off, but while you are wearing it off, you are depressed, grouchy, touchy, filled with fear. FODOLAX RELEASES THE BILE. You don't live, for your Liver is dammed-up with Bile. To release this Bile you may take mollycoddle laxatives. None of them really reach the spot—the Liver—none release the Bile. You can't expect to regain your old punch until this Bile is released—until it disinfests the putrid matter that is being fed to your body. Go right to the bottom of the trouble with the old-fashioned dully liver regulator—Fodolax (or May-Apple Bile), sometimes called by its biblical name—Mandrake). No, it won't gripe or sicken you, if you get the right form—if you get Fodolax—a Fodophyllin formula with the gripe and nausea taken out. (Fodolax from Fodophyllin—"Lax" meaning Laxative—not purging or cathartic. The children will like it—and you, like others, will use it instead of the mollycoddle laxatives. Stop at the drug store and get a 50c bottle—ADV.

CITIZENS' BRIDGE COMMITTEE SAYS BRIEF IS CORRECT

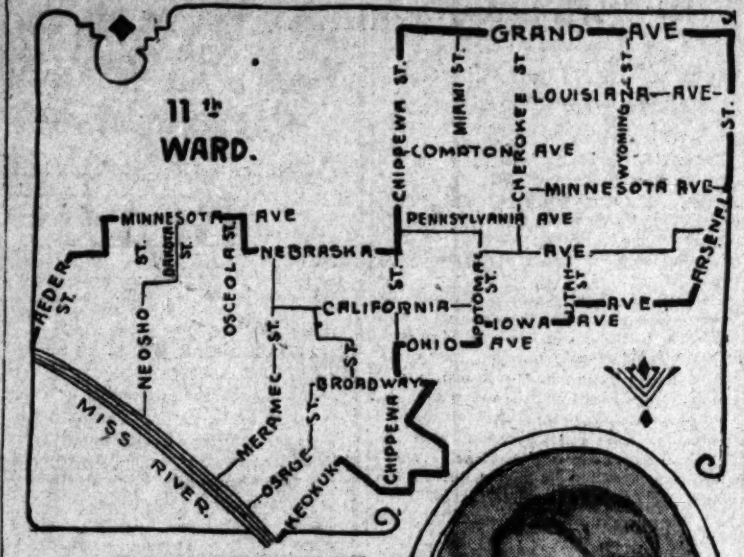

Supplementary Report Made to Conference Who Challenged Its Accuracy.

The Executive Committee of the Citizens' Free Bridge Committee, in a supplementary statement to be filed with the Joint Free Bridge Committee of the House of Delegates and Council Monday afternoon asserts that the statement filed with the committee at Saturday's hearing was correct both with respect to the vote of present members of the Municipal Assembly on legislation pertaining to the Reber approach, and the convenience of the Reber approach for the coal-carrying railroads.

Members of the joint committee challenged the accuracy of the statement with respect to their own records. They also challenged the accuracy of the statement that the Reber approach would be more convenient for the coal-carrying railroads. Chairman Shapleigh promised the committee that he would make a further investigation, and if any inaccuracies could be found in the statement, they would be corrected.

Chairman Fletcher said Monday, after reading this second statement issued by the Citizens' Committee, that it was misleading. He said he had voted for no ordinance locating or extending the Reber approach, but had voted against them all. The record prepared by the Citizens' Committee did not show that Fletcher had voted for any of the Reber approach location bills, but had voted for minor bills to buy lands for that approach.

Fletcher declared that unless the statement was corrected to his satisfaction he would favor rejecting it. Following is the statement: When the brief of the Citizens' Free Bridge Campaign Committee was presented before the Joint Conference Committee of the Municipal Assembly Saturday, Feb. 14, exceptions were taken to the following statement made in the brief:

"Many ordinances were passed by approval of the eastern approach right of way during the sessions of 1909-10, 1910-11 and 1912-13, and some of the members of the present Assembly who were members during those sessions voted in favor of most of them. An examination of the list hereto appended will show that Messrs. Ebrecht, Hall, McCarthy, Gallagher, Gassolo and Scully of the present House and Messrs. Pauls, Protzman, Randall, Rower and Fletcher of the Council voted in the affirmative on some of these measures."

The ordinances which had received the affirmative vote of the members of the Assembly mentioned all related to the acquiring of land, the making of contracts and other steps in the establishment of the adopted approach.

A list of some of the measures, with the vote thereon, was appended to the brief as an exhibit. This list was made up from the journals of the Council and House of Delegates. Those records fully verify the statement made in our brief and are a complete answer to the objections made to it.

The statement made in the brief that the adopted approach is especially convenient to the large coal-carrying railroads was also challenged. This statement was based upon the fact that the adopted approach will be particularly convenient to the Illinois Central and Southern railway which, as we advised, carry a large per cent of the coal brought into St. Louis. We, therefore, desire to reiterate this statement of our brief for the purpose of emphasizing this advantage of the adopted approach.

The statement made in the brief, that the land for the adopted approach, as prolonged by the so-called Associated Retailers' ordinance, has been purchased, was also disputed.

The ordinance authorizing the purchase of this land is No. 2448, and the land was purchased in pursuance thereof, to the deed being delivered to the city in August, 1912. The deed was recorded in the office of the Recorder at Belleville, and was filed in the office of the City Register.

The statement that there will be no crossings by the approach over railroad tracks at grade, if the approach is constructed upon the adopted right of way, was also questioned.

The prolongation of the original adopted, or Reber approach, directed by the Associated Retailers' ordinance, provided for the purchase of a strip of land extending a sufficient distance to the east to permit the building of an approach over the tracks of the Terminal Railway Association in Twenty-first street at an elevation of 23 feet in the clear, and descending at a 1 per cent grade.

The crossings of the proposed approach upon the extended right of way, which were formally approved by the Railroad and Warehouse Commission of Illinois, included a crossing over the Terminal tracks in Twenty-first street at an elevation of 23 feet, and likewise a crossing of the same clearance over the tracks of the Columbia & Waterloo Electric Line.

The approval of these crossings is a matter of record in the office of the Railroad and Warehouse Commission of Illinois and the certificates of the Commission's approval was filed in the office of the City Register.

If the approach is constructed, as contemplated by ordinance No. 2448, at an elevation of 23 feet in the clear over the tracks of the Terminal Association in Twenty-first street and descends upon a grade of 1 per cent, the highest practicable grade, it will come to the surface outside of the limits of East St. Louis and cross no tracks at grade.

We make the foregoing statement to remove any doubt which may have been raised by statements made at the hearing before the Municipal Assembly Committee as to the accuracy of our brief on these matters. All of the facts stated in the brief are based upon official records and the brief in the form presented to the Assembly represents the views of the 81 organizations that signed it and which have a membership of about 25,000.

VOTERS DEMAND AN EXPLANATION FROM DELEGATE EBRECHT

The Post-Dispatch is printing from day to day maps of the city's 28 wards that voters all over town may know who their respective Delegates are and whether their views on the free bridge question are represented or misrepresented in the House.

The Eleventh Ward's representative in the House of Delegates is Henry F. Ebrecht. He is a Republican and is one of the five Republicans in the combine with 17 Democrats to block free bridge legislation in the House.

Ebrecht is a salesman for the Roth-Homery Coffee Co. of 801 North Third street, and resides at 2515 Wyoming street. He was taken to task a couple of weeks ago by the Tenth Ward Improvement Association, an organization of 650 members, most of whom reside in the Eleventh Ward, for his attitude toward the free bridge.

Ebrecht appeared before the association, Sunday, Ebrecht sent a letter signed by his physician, saying he was confined to his home and would be unable to leave the house for several days.

Leading business men of the Eleventh Ward interviewed by a Post-Dispatch reporter declared that the sentiment of the voters in the ward was overwhelmingly for the Reber approach, and against the A. & M. approach.

They declared that the action of Delegate Ebrecht in voting for the A. & M. approach was beyond their understanding, particularly in view of the fact that the Eleventh Ward has given a large majority for the bridge bonds at each election at which they have been voted on.

The vote at the August, 1912, special election was 1917 for the bonds and 1408 against them. Voters and business men now say that there is no question that the ward would give the bonds much more than the required two-thirds vote at this time.

Lorenz P. Padberg of the Mutual Brewery, who is also in the grocery business at 2001 South Broadway, and who for many years has been one of the most active members of the Tenth Ward Improvement Association, and the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association, says there is little difference of opinion in the Eleventh Ward as to the bridge approach.

"The Tenth Ward Improvement Association has gone on record as favoring the Reber approach," Padberg said. "That is almost a certain indication of the feeling in the Eleventh Ward, as there is included in the association men of all parties and of all walks of life. The association represents the thought of the voters, as has been demonstrated time and time again."

"The voters believe that the Reber approach is the proper one, because it is the cheapest and because the city has already acquired the land for it. The people of this ward would not vote for the expensive A. & M. approach. The Eleventh Ward will easily give the two-thirds vote needed to pass the bonds."

"The voters believe the bridge should be completed at the earliest possible time, and they will do everything in their power to have it completed."

Barth Discusses Situation. Henry W. Barth, a real estate dealer, and president of the Tenth Ward Improvement Association, is also an active advocate of the Reber approach. "We do not understand Mr. Ebrecht's position," he said, "and I don't believe he could explain it to the voters of South St. Louis. This part of town is for the completion of the bridge in the quickest and best way. The voters are informed as to the different approaches. They read the newspapers and they form their opinions on the subject. Even at a time when the Southern Traction franchises over the bridge was an issue, this part of the city voted for the bonds. With that issue out of the way, the vote now would be overwhelming."

"Of course there are a good many Socialists about here, and I believe, they for the most part are opposed to the Reber approach, though not all of them will vote against bonds to complete the bridge because of that reason. Outside of them and a few scattering persons who have been hypnotized by orators for the Northeast approach, the people are solid for the Reber approach. I do not believe there is any sentiment in favor of the A. & M. approach."

Others Favor Reber Approach. George W. Stamm of 3319 Utah street, secretary of the Interstate Printing Co. of 318 Elm street, is a Reber approach advocate. He told a Post-Dispatch reporter that he could see no reason to vote bonds for a long approach, when the city already owns the land for the Reber approach, and when that is the best, most economical and most useful approach which can be built.

MRS. WILLIAMS' LONG SICKNESS

Yields to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I suffered for fourteen years from organic troubles. Pains in my sides were increased by walking or standing on my feet and I had other aches and pains, was depressed in spirits and became thin and pale, with dull, heavy eyes. I had six doctors from whom I received no relief. I decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. I have now used the remedy for four months and cannot express my thanks for what it has done for me."

"If these lines will be of any benefit you have my permission to publish them."—MRS. SADIE WILLIAMS, 455 James Street, Elkhart, Indiana.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

BURGLAR ESCAPES AS PATROLMAN ENTERS A HOME

Robber Detected at Work Flees by Rear Door; Part of Loot Recovered.

Apparel and jewelry stolen Sunday night from the home of Harold Fritschle, 402 Junata street, was found Monday morning in the cellar of an apartment house in course of construction a short distance west of the Fritschle home. The clothing had been slashed and ruined.

Fritschle and his wife and the latter's sister, Miss Augusta Glanville, found the lights turned on when they returned home at 11:30 Sunday night and saw a man in the house. The women screamed and a crowd gathered. A policeman was called and he entered the house. The burglar had gone out the rear way.

The house had been ransacked and four rings valued at $100, a silk dress, a three-quarter length coat, a woman's hat, a pair of shoes, a necktie and 80 cents had been taken. A quarter was found in the yard, where the burglar had dropped it in his flight.

When Elmer Cox and Charles Greenwell, carpenters, went to the new apartment building at 6:30 a. m., they found all the stolen articles in the cellar. One sleeve had been torn from the coat, the dress and coat had been cut into strips, the soles had been ripped from the shoes, the trimming had been torn from the hat.

A pocketknife, with the blade open, was also found and a nickel-plated watch and a suit of men's underwear, folded as it had been delivered from the laundry. These things were not stolen from the Fritschle home.

Tracks were discovered in the snow from the Fritschle backyard to the cellar where the articles were found. Seven West End homes were ransacked by burglars Sunday evening. The money of Ralph E. Sisson, 5322 De Saver avenue, was robbed between 4 and 11:15 p. m., while the family was on a visit. The following articles were taken:

A diamond ring, three watches, a neck chain, set of gold beads, a dozen knives, five dozen spoons, a dozen forks, butter knife, tablecloth and eight napkins, two cut glass vegetable bowls, a suit case, hand satchel and revolver.

Medals occupied the attention of burglars who searched the home of Mrs. Mary Combs, 605 Maple avenue. A graduation medal awarded by the Rock Church parochial school and three medals for sprinting, all bearing the initials "C. J. C.", together with a safety razor, scarf pin, silk waist and a breastpin, were taken.

At the residence of Mrs. Emeline Sanner, 1480 Union boulevard, a pair of diamond earrings, three diamond rings, a neck chain and pin, a pair of cuff buttons, watch and chain and two small bottles of Cologne were stolen.

The residence of J. S. Liebk, 5563 Berlin avenue, was robbed between noon and 8 p. m. of a diamond ring, diamond pin, watch, bag, bracelet, watch, card case and suit of clothes.

In the residence of Oscar Bornmuller, 1238 Union boulevard, burglars took a watch bearing the initials "R. L. B.", a wedding ring, 45 cigars and $2. Mrs. Emma Kaechlan, of 487 Maryland avenue, who was entertaining her sister at dinner Sunday evening, noticed a light in her bedroom. They investigated and found a side window open and heard someone running through the side yard. The dresser had been searched and a handbag containing a small purse and $2.50 was missing.

Burglars used a janitor's ladder to get into the first-floor apartment of Dr. R. J. Leonard at 432 Maryland avenue. Dr. Leonard heard the burglars moving about in a bedroom at 7 p. m. and left the dinner table to chase them. They jumped from a side window. No loot was obtained.

Bertilson's Brain Exceeds Normal Weight.
PARIS, Feb. 16.—The brain of the late Alphonse Bertillon, creator of the system of criminal identification which brought him fame, weighed 1525 grammes. The weight of the brain of the average man is 1380 grammes. Dr. Leonce Manouvrier says the weight is the more remarkable because the organ was shrunken and anemic from a long sickness.

President McKinley's Surgeon Dies.
BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 16.—Dr. Ross-wood Park, one of the best known surgeons in America, died suddenly at his home here Sunday of heart disease. Dr. Park had been in good health up to within 20 minutes of his death. He was surgeon in charge after President McKinley was shot here in 1901.

Clerk Loses Life as Rescuer.
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 16.—The body of William F. Howe, 70 years old, shipping clerk employed by the Northern Manufacturing Co., who was missing following a fire which destroyed the company's factory, was found in the building, where he had been overcome by smoke. He had attempted to rescue a young woman who already had been saved.

BIG BUSINESS IN 1914

In spite of the general pessimism which prevailed in the recent past, the Philip Morris Cigarette business not only advanced during 1913 to the extent of 40% over the preceding year, but the first two weeks of the NEW YEAR were the most prosperous weeks in the history of the company.

The volume of business on PHILIP MORRIS CIGARETTES for the first two weeks of January, 1914, was larger than for any other two weeks of the past sixty years, while the total output of January was 20% larger than that of December, 1913.

We have no reason to doubt that this is only the beginning of a year which will break all previous records; nor do we hesitate to predict a similar success for all the manufacturers who—

1. Produce goods of unquestionable merit;
2. Base their appeal to the buying public upon truthful grounds;
3. Use the proper kind of publications for their advertising.
Those three essentials are the keystone of sound business policy which has enabled us to demonstrate and prove the superior quality of our products and maintain for sixty years the patronage of the most discriminating people in all parts of the civilized world, until now PHILIP MORRIS CIGARETTES have an international distribution and reputation equaled by none in our field.

FOLK'S FRIENDS SAY HE MAY RUN FOR THE SENATE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The report that former Gov. Joseph W. Folk, Solicitor of the Department of State under Secretary Bryan, was about to announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator from Missouri, against Senator Stone, has created new interest among Missourians in Washington in the senatorial situation.

It was believed that, when Folk entered the State Department as its Solicitor, he had been sidetracked as a senatorial candidate. In the last six months repeated efforts have been made by the anti-Stone Democrats to bring out a candidate, but one after another has declined.

Folk's friends in conference. Recently Folk has received many letters requesting him to run. A conference of Folk's political friends in Washington was held at the New Willard Hotel last night, and the information leaked out that Folk might run again. John C. Roberts, shoe manufacturer and owner of the New St. Louis Star, was in the conference. Roberts has been one of Folk's political supporters for several years.

When asked about the reports, Folk said he had been too busy with his work in the State Department to give much consideration to the senatorial nomination.

It is believed here that Folk will not enter the fight unless he is assured of the more or less active support of Secretary Bryan and President Wilson. While Senator Stone and Senator Reed have been squabbling over the Missouri appointments, Folk has been in the limelight as the spokesman of the administration with respect to the proposed presidential primary law.

Senator Stone's illness may also be a factor which has caused Folk to change his mind about the senatorial race. Stone has been in bed much of the time in the last six weeks, and unless his health should improve he would not be able to make an active canvass of the State. From reports received in Washington, Stone will be without formidable opposition for the nomination, unless Folk enters the contest. Supreme Judge W. W. Graves of Jefferson City was urged to run, but he decided early in the year to remain on the bench.

Others were discussed. Among those discussed in this connection were John M. Atkinson, chairman of the Missouri Public Service Commission; State Insurance Commissioner Charles Revell and Col. William H. Phelps of Carthage.

Former Judge William H. Wallace of Kansas City has announced his candidacy. As he has been on friendly terms, politically, with Folk it is thought here that he might be induced to withdraw if Folk decides to enter the contest.

One of the mooted questions in Washington is whether Senator Stone will lose or gain strength through the Federal appointments. These appointments are generally made upon the recommendations of the Senators. As there are usually six or eight disappointed applicants to each successful one, the general impression is that every disappointed applicant will hold the Senator responsible for his loss of the job, and will line up against him in the fight for the nomination.

Owing to his support of Speaker Clark in the last presidential fight, Stone is assured of Clark's support in his contest for re-nomination. It is generally believed that the Major administration will be against Senator Stone if Folk should decide to make the race.

Among the Most Winsome of New Waists are the Empire Sash Blouses at $2

The Sash Blouses have been accorded an ovation in Paris. They are capturing the femininity wherever shown in America, too.

We were first to introduce them in St. Louis & so well liked were they that the first generous purchase was depleted days ago. Here is another new idea. The upper part of the blouse is inset with embroidered voile in a way that suggests a bolero.

Like all Sash Blouses, the fronts of this one cross in surplice fashion & their tapering ends form a sash around the waist, tying in the back as shown. Women will be delighted with this at. $2.00

The Great $11 Sale

of Men's $18, $20, $22.50 & $25 Suits & Overcoats

—but the news is yet to be carried to other thousands.

Once a man comes to the great block-long clothing store, it is not necessary to importune him to buy. Invariably he does "his own urging." To see the splendid Suits & Overcoats which are now in the $11 group, is to want them.

Time & again have keen business men chosen two suits or a suit & overcoat, because they were able to get the two for less than the usual price of one. The range of styles & the selection of materials is thrice as great as any other St. Louis store affords, so that men contemplating the purchase of suits will save time by looking here first.

In the Suits are 1, 2 & 3 button English & semi-English, as well as Norfolk models, while among the Overcoats are convertible & shawl collar models, English Balmacons, Ulsters & the fancy back styles which are in such strong vogue. The former price tickets at $18, $20, $22.50 & $25.00 on these Coats have been supplanted by the twice-yearly magic clearance figure of.....

A LITTLE husband, now then, MAY prove to be best of men.

After all, life without a husband out as thrilling as a dance with partner, a front porch without hammock, a motor car without gas pump, a divorce without alimony, dinner without wine, or a cigar without a match.

An ideal lover and an ideal friend are two totally different things and the girl who attempts to make one over into the other will find a task about as easy as making a coat out of a chiffon ball gown.

Being a wife means being a mother, a valet, a chaperon and a nurse to a grown-up baby, who treats you like a kitten.

No matter how long a bachelor may have fixed his own bath water and owned his own safety razor, he suddenly loses the use of all his muscles the moment he is married.

It's funny that, as the price of husbands, like the price of eggs, rises, the quality seems to deteriorate. One good husband used to last a woman a lifetime, but now it seems requires two or three.

END DANDRUFF

Top Falling Hair and Itch

There is one sure way that never failed to remove dandruff, and that is to dissolve it, and destroy it entirely. To do this you get about four ounces of the common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), and use it at night when retiring; wash it enough to moisten the scalp and rub it gently with the finger tips. By morning most, if not all, your dandruff will be gone, and the four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you

You will find all itching and burning of the scalp will stop instantly, your hair will be fluffy, glossy, silky and soft, and you will feel a hundred times better. If you value your hair you should get rid of dandruff at once, for it not only destroys the hair so quickly, but it also starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless. Tinted hair is on sale and society is wondering who will try it first.

COINCIDENT with the advent of the vari-colored wig, which is designed to match the prevailing shades in the tole, the wig company received the intelligence of the discovery of a Peruvian water, reputed to possess natural chemical properties, by virtue of which the hair could be dyed in permanent tints, outdoing nature—a water, moreover, undreamed of in the rarest formulae of the hairdresser's specialist.

So we now have wigs galore, in a great riot of color, suggestive of the flamingo, shading from flaming scarlet, to pea green, ochre, yellow, rose pink, sky blue, etc., etc., into the softer twilight or pastel tones, suited to any complexion or complexion and physique, and the St. Louis society is flitting with its temptation to don them. Meanwhile admiring quantities. Thereupon their edict went forth banishing these artificialities, and it became the vogue to dress the hair severely plain. The alarm of an army of specialists has been in the interval, to repair the damage former styles have inflicted, and in the past year those people have been reaping a golden harvest.

Subjects who are considered beyond the science of this contingent have just recourse to the wig, and it is certain that those who love to effect eccentricities of dress will revel in the freak innovation, and as there is still a large element who seek after the outer and ultra in things sartorial, Who shall say but that the colored wig will have its day?

Actresses who are always in the vanguard on the dress question, have evinced their usual temerity and several com-

The King of the Barnyard

"I THINK that the barnyard animals should have a king," said the donkey; "it would give more dignity to the yard."

"Why do we want a king?" asked the rooster.

"I am king of my flock," said one of mine," said the turkey cobbler.

"And I think we get along very well as we are," said the horse.

"I am king of the farm," said the donkey. "One who can settle all disputes with superior judgment and can live in a graceful manner."

"I think it would be nice to have a king," said the duck, "and I am always ready to side with anyone."

"I do not care to be king," said the cow.

"Nor I," said the cat.

"Nor I, nor I," came from all sides.

"Let the donkey be king," said the duck, wishing to please everybody if he could.

"I will be king," said the cat. "If we must have a king, he is the one."

"Of course the majority rules," said the donkey, trying not to bring his selfishness to the thought of being king.

"You must have a throne," said the horse, who was very much interested now that the matter was settled.

"Well, I think I have had some," said the cow. "I have horns."

"Donkey has long ears," said the cobbler.

"But they are not as graceful looking as my horns," said the cow, with a frown.

"All are not born to rule," said the donkey, looking scornfully at the cow.

"We can make a throne by placing a keg on three stumps and putting a blanket over it," said the horse, "but you should have a crown."

"You might use the water pail," said the cow, "but his head has grown so large I do not suppose it will go over it."

"How will this do?" said the duck, waddling toward them with the rim of an old straw hat in her bill.

"The very thing," said the horse, crowning the duck with it.

"And now you must have a scepter: here is the pitchfork," he said, handing it to the donkey. "Times up," he told him.

The donkey stepped to his throne and took his seat.

"I should think the dog and cat might," said the donkey. "They get on very well together."

The cat humped her back. "If you think I am going to bow to you," she said, "you can think about something else. I shall not how to anyone" and she walked out of the barn.

She did not think I care for the page position and the dog, as he trotted off to his house.

JOE SUGDEN WILL BE VALUABLE AID AGAINST DETROIT

Browns' New Coach, Formerly With Tigers, Can Tip Off Jennings' Plays.

RICKEY IS HANDICAPPED

Lack of Assistants Makes It Difficult to Handle Big Squad in Florida.

By W. J. O'Connor,

If there is such a thing in baseball as stealing the other team's "stuff," Joe Sugden, the veteran catcher, who has been retained to coach the juvenile Browns battery men, should be of some assistance to Manager Rickey. Sugden comes here from Detroit, where he has been employed for several seasons as scout and coach. This year the Browns will play nine of their first 12 games against the Tigers, and if Joe can tip off Jennings' system of play, the local club should get a good start in the A. L. derby.

The Browns open a four-game series in Detroit, April 14, then go to Chicago for four frolics, the 20th. Their third series is at home against the Tigers and will be a five-game affair. After that clash, which closes April 25, the Browns will not have another occasion to play the Royal Bengals until May 30. To properly inaugurate his campaign for the Johnsonian body, Manager Rickey will have to annex a fair number of the nine journey with the Junglers early in April.

To Replace Lou Criger. Sugden was signed, once it became known that Lou Criger was unable to report. Criger was slow in reporting his condition to the Brown management, and it was not until the date of departure for St. Petersburg that Manager Rickey learned of Lou's indisposition. Then the wires were burned up in search of a desirable substitute, Sugden being the most desirable man available.

Manager Rickey probably will welcome the acquisition of Sugden as the task of handling a squad of 45 players is too much for a manager just beginning. For a time it was thought that Rickey would have either Ira Thomas or Harry Davis, but all attempts to make one of Mack's lieutenants went wrong.

Manager Rickey is making valiant attempts to relieve the Browns of all their bad habits. He has put the ban on poker and cigarettes, a phase that George Baumgardner has regarded as a personal affront. Baumgardner not only played in smoking cigarettes, but he also was pleased with the manner in which he could "juggle" a pill. George could roll 'em with one hand, then toss one in the air and catch the business in his mouth. That he will be deprived of showing the newcomers these tricks will undoubtedly prove painful.

Britton After Perdue.

Schuyler Britton, president of the Cardinals, still has hopes of landing Hub Perdue, who figured in the deal that sent Evers to Boston. Since the National League managers decided that Murphy shall not have either Sweeney or Perdue, Owner Britton has renewed his efforts to land Hub. He's willing to part with Cozy Dolan and cash to get the husky right-hander.

President Hughes of the Browns announced Monday that he would probably send Bob Wallace to St. Petersburg in advance of the second squad, which is scheduled to arrive in which he could "juggle" a pill. George could roll 'em with one hand, then toss one in the air and catch the business in his mouth. That he will be deprived of showing the newcomers these tricks will undoubtedly prove painful.

PELL BEATS OSBORNE IN GOLD RACQUET FINALS

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—It was the East against the West for the gold racquet championship in the final round yesterday at the Tuxedo Club court, Tuxedo Park, and the East won by three games to one. Clarence C. Pell of the Tuxedo Tennis and Racquet Club defeated C. Clifton Osborne of the University Club of Chicago, 15-6, 15-11, 17-15, 6-0 in 65 minutes.

Pell won the open championship of the New York Tennis and Racquet Club two weeks ago and defeated Ernest Greenwald at Montreal a week earlier for the amateur championship at Canada. He is entered in the national championship at Boston next week, and his friends say he has a good chance to come home with the cup.

WELSH AND DUFFY AGREE TO BOX AT COLISEUM FEB. 26

Murphy Unable to Fight Here Against Duffy on That Date.

Freddie Welsh and Jimmy Duffy will be the opposing fighters in the feature bout at the Coliseum, Feb. 26, unless the fighters fall out before signing articles of agreement. Manager Bishop stated that the financial terms of both men were satisfactory and that the only remaining problem was the weight. This will probably be 135 pounds at 3 o'clock, Charley White, Johnny Dundee and other boxers were after a chance to meet Welsh here.

They Broke Right for Murph'

MURPHY is at once the luckiest and unluckiest man in baseball. He bought the Cubs with Charles P. Taft's money, for $100,000. It was a machine ready to do things, built for that purpose by Frank Selee. It prospered from the jump, and ably handled by Frank Chance, it minted coin for Murphy and his associates.

It is estimated that Murphy, on a shoe-string start, is now worth over $500,000. OUTSIDE HIS CLUB HOLDINGS, all made in about eight years, off the Cubs.

His misfortune is noted above. IT APPEARS TO BE DESERVED.

Rickey Right, but Wrong.

BRANCH RICKEY is already applying college training theories to baseball. He has barred poker and cigarettes and he will doubtless establish a code which he will expect all players to live up to throughout the season.

Rickey's idea is all right, for colleges, but it's all wrong for baseball. For the following reason:

The college athletic season, for any particular sport, does not last more than two months. Furthermore, its competitive endeavors are not daily, but intermittent.

Major league baseball training begins now and ends in October, or nearly eight months' duration. Six months of this period are marked by daily competition.

Jack Must Play or Be Dull.

TO keep men in rigid training for such an extended period, to hold them fixated to one idea, with no relaxation, means to stifle themselves physically and mentally long before the season is half through.

Baseball results can best be achieved by permitting certain indulgences during the season, even to the extent of poker, cigarettes and beer, in moderation. Certainly the barring of every source to the baseball player is going to harm his position; a sour athlete is not an effective one.

Wolgast and Gibbons Scheduled to Show in Boxing Bouts Tonight

Mike Gibbons and Ad Wolgast, two fighters just at present very much in the limelight, are scheduled for bouts Monday night. Gibbons is down to box Kid Graves at Philadelphia, while Wolgast is to go on with Tommy Gary at Cincinnati.

Gibbons is considered a dangerous fighter, in the East, and may give Gibbons some trouble. Gary is no match for Wolgast, unless he has improved.

Gibbons and McFarland are still having trouble getting together in that New York bout, although Gibbons now states he is willing to say $10,000 to get into the ring with him, so acrimonious has the discussion between the two become. The fight is too valuable to be allowed to slip into the discard. Only the desire of one boxer or the other to evade the meeting will prevent its ultimate staging.

Some good bouts scheduled this week are: Johnny Kilbane vs. Jack White, Milwaukee, Wednesday; Knockout Brown vs. Paty Dwyer, Windsor, Wednesday; Bud Anderson vs. Red Watson, 20 rounds, San Francisco, Friday; Joe Mandot vs. Johnny Griffiths, New Orleans, Saturday.

Tommy Buck, a Philadelphia featherweight, is the latest arrival to join the local boxing

Belmont to Reappear.

Mal Dovic, who handled Jimmy Belmont at the time of his downfall here at the hands of Carl Morris, claims that Belmont was beaten when Morris hit while holding him, early in the bout. The blow, claim Mal, dazed Belmont and contributed to his demise. Mal also states that he ordered Belmont to "stay down" in the third round, as he was being held by Morris.

Whether that was the handicap or not, Belmont seems still to be laboring under one, judging by the class of the opposition he is picking for his reappearance in the ring.

King faces Gabe Gault, from the home of Charley Conley, the Onion Club and the "Buck" fight. The latter is an unknown and his appearance in the Future City A. C. fight, Tuesday night, has aroused some curiosity. Conley is putting Gault on the map as a pugilist. He may have to haul him away, if one of King's laymen is correct.

The rest of the Future City card, Tuesday, is of the pork-and-beans variety; but some real fights may be staged, even though little science is manifested.

Coast Featherweight Here to Challenge All 122-Pound White Hopes

Manuel Vieira, who has been coming to the front in the featherweight division on the Coast, arrived in the city Monday, looking for matches. Vieira is under the management of Pat Burke and will take on Ray at 122 pounds or over, after resting for a week.

Vieira is not a Mexican, but a Portuguese, born in Hawaii. He is 22 years old and has been fighting four years. In nearly 70 fights he has failed to get a decision only eight times.

He came through the Middle West some months ago, but went back to the Coast, following an illness in his family. Some of his bouts while in this vicinity resulted as follows: Beat Jimmy Anderson, 12 rounds, at Shelbyville, Ind.; knocked out Jimmy Watts in five rounds in the same city; fought a draw with Johnny Creely in Indianapolis; and beat him decisively in Cincinnati in 10 rounds; beat "Peanuts" Schlabert in Milwaukee in 10 rounds.

COMISKEY TOO ILL TO QUIT ROME WITH TEAMS

ROME, Feb. 15.—The indisposition of Charles A. Comiskey, president of the Chicago club of the American Baseball League, continues, and the specialists in attendance make frequent examinations of the patient.

INDIANAPOLIS CUEIST PLAYS BENSON TONIGHT

TOM SHARKEY GETS 30 DAYS, IS FINED $500

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Tom Sharkey, once famous as a heavyweight pugilist, was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $500 today for maintaining a disreputable resort in Fourteenth street.

The manager of the place received the same jail sentence, but was not fined. Both were convicted recently and had been in the Tombs awaiting sentence.

Call for Pat Mullaly!

Rivington Bissland, Vernon Ashley, Derrill Pratt, Palmer C. Snedecore et al., please sit up and take notice: Virgil Fiddington has signed with the Feds.

Manager Rickey has placed a ban on cigarettes and poker as being harmful to BALL PLAYERS. Upon receipt of the notice, the Browns chuckled their "bawling" out of the car window, tore up the lawful poker decks and thanked their manager for the delicate compliment he had paid them.

Organized baseball is certainly topsy-turvy, upside down and inside out. The Plank is holding out on Connie Mack.

In lieu of poker, Manager Rickey recommends "pitch" as a good, healthful and moral exercise for his twirling squad.

The winter of 1913-14 promises to go down in history as the most prosperous baseball season ever enjoyed by the lawyers.

A CINCH.

The legal logic enjoys a fight, It is his nature to; For, be the client wrong or right, The lawyer cops the glue.

San Johnson has discarded the time-honored "alibi," and will try a writ of ouster on Mr. Murphy. There's always some new play being up in this great national game of ours.

Murphy will probably come back at Ban with a "habes corpus."

HANK O'DAY WILL TAKE 12 CUBS SOUTH TONIGHT

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—This is "retaway" week for the Chicago Cubs and White Sox baseball teams. Players of the National League club will leave tonight for Tampa, Fla., and the White Sox players will leave Thursday for Paso Robles, Cal., to begin the annual spring practice.

Henry O'Day, who succeeds Johnny Evers as manager of the Cubs, today took formal charge of his squad. Only about 12 players will accompany the new manager when the start for the South is made tonight. Other members of the team will join the squad en route.

In the absence of President Comiskey and Manager Callahan, who are in Europe with the world-traveling baseball teams representing the New York Giants and the White Sox, Coach O'Day will command the White Sox players on their trip to the spring training camp. They expect to reach their destination next Monday and will begin active work the following day.

Edon to Wrestle Carter. Frank Edon, who won from Joe Benson Friday night, has been matched with Lloyd Carter in a catch-as-catch-can wrestling match at the Standard Theater this week.

Cardinals to Be Squeezed Out, in New Baseball Plan

Chicago Critic Describes Scheme to Unite Three "Outlaw" and Five National Clubs in New League; Cubs, Cards and Brooklyn to Be Dropped.

DISSOLUTION of the National League, the abrogation of the National agreement and the formation of a new league to comprise certain clubs from the National and Federal organizations, are predictions made by I. E. Sanborn, baseball expert of the Chicago Tribune, as a sequel to the Murphy-Johnson row.

Sanborn, who is in close touch with American League politics, says that the passing of the old National League which has endured for 40 years in spite of itself, is inevitable. Sanborn writes in part:

"Whether or not Charles W. Murphy—and others—remain in organized baseball depends on the attitude of the New York National League Club toward a plan that has been formulated to eliminate several factors which the forces of organized baseball consider inimical to the 'good of the game,' and to terminate the present warfare without the shedding of a drop of blood.

Murphy to Be Bought Out. "The ultimate plan does not contemplate forcing Murphy, or anybody else, out of the National League, as has been erroneously reported. That would be, as he says, a difficult thing to do, and might tangle up the old league's affairs indefinitely in the courts.

"The scheme is simply to give Murphy a chance to dispose of the Cubs at a fair price and, if he refuses, to spring an amalgamation of five of the present National League club owners with three of the embryonic Federal League clubs, leaving the Chicago, St. Louis and Brooklyn clubs in the National League with the privilege of taking five other clubs into partnership before the opening of the next championship season, to form an independent circuit.

"The scheme is a simple one, even if drastic. Five clubs have been organized—Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, New York and Boston—are to resign their membership in the veteran league and combine with the Chicago, St. Louis and Baltimore clubs of the Federal League to form a new organization, which may be known as the Continental, or the United States, or any other name that meets approval. The eight American League cities are to remain a unit as now.

Would Lose the Cards. "The dissolution of the present national agreement, under which all clubs in organized baseball have been organized, will be the next step, to be followed immediately by the formation of a new national agreement with what is left of the National League—Chicago, St. Louis and Brooklyn—outside the breastworks.

"The plan would remove from organized baseball two of its chief trouble makers, the owners of the Chicago and Brooklyn National League clubs, and a source of some worry in St. Louis. It would take care of the promoters of the three Federal League clubs which have shown the greatest amount of pepper and enterprise up to date—the Chicago, St. Louis and Baltimore clubs of the independent organization.

"The promoters of the remaining five Federal League clubs in Kansas City, Indianapolis, Pittsburgh, Toronto and Buffalo could be reimbursed in cash by the new coalition for all the coin expended by them up to the point of their cost of such indemnification of the discarded Federal clubs would be considerably less than what would be considered a fair price for the Chicago league ball club.

It's Up to New York. "For some seasons Hermann of Cincinnati and Dreyfus of Pittsburgh have shared with the American League the belief that the best interests of the National League demanded a change in the ownership of the Chicago club. The other National League club owners have been lukewarm to the proposition, as most of them have been new to the game. The recent Murphy-Evers-O'Day episode and the fact that it has produced in the baseball world is said to have convinced Gaffney of the Boston club and the new owners of the Philadelphia club, led by President Evers, to take something the same view of the matter. The New York club, which has the final say, is the unknown quantity in the problem and

BIG BILL STEELE, WEIGHING 196, IS READY TO TWIRL

Cardinal Pitcher, Laid Up Last Year With Rheumatism, Has "Come Back."

Big Bill Steele, the Cardinal spitballer, who was forced to quit last July because of rheumatism in his hip, reported at Robison Field Monday sans the rheumatic pains.

"I lost the rheumatism while hunting in the mountains," Bill explained; "and in the mountains I picked up the back where I was in 1912. I weigh in at 196 pounds striped, and I feel as though I can win at least 25 games."

Steele, with Harry Baile, composed the Cardinal squad now in St. Louis. They will leave Saturday night for St. Augustine, where Huggins' squad will report the following Monday. Huggins will go direct from his home in Cincinnati.

Mike Doolan threatens to take the Federal League turtle. Mike is touring the old world with Comiskey, McGraw et al., and sends back word that unless the Philadelphia management doubles his salary he will join Otto Knebe in Baltimore. "If Mike jumps, the Phils might just as well forget their game."

Bob Becher has signed for three years with the Glens. McGraw obtained Becher's release from Cincinnati service by giving Hersey to Gary-Hawman. Hersey has been indicted with the management of the Reds.

Ray Mitchell, Yale Olsen, Earnest Walker and Jimmy Austin joined Manager Rickey's squad of troupers at Jacksonville, Fla., Sunday. They then started for St. Petersburg, 12 hours behind the Yankees at the game.

Pitcher Ray Caldwell and pitcher Reynolds have joined the Yankees squad at Hot Springs, Ark., where they will spend a week before going to Houston, Tex. Dode Criss, King Cole, Ray Keating and Marty McLean are other Yankees at the spa.

Robison Field Teams Decline Invitation to Join Organized Soccer

The Robison Field Soccer League, at a meeting Sunday afternoon, voted not to join the Missouri division of the United States of America Football Association, the governing body of the kicking game in this country. The local "outlaws" decided that they had nothing to gain by becoming affiliated with the organization, and disposed of for all time, the invitation recently extended to them.

It was decided by the various managers that a double-header would be played every time next month for the benefit of Father Dempsey's Workmen's Home. The date of these games will be announced later.

The question of drafting men from the Municipal League also was considered and a decision was reached that no men would be drafted from the amateur ranks into the club of the present Municipal League.

RICKEY'S SQUAD WILL BEGIN PRACTICE TODAY

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 15.—Manager Branch Rickey counted noses this morning and learned that he had a squad of 27 players here to begin practice this afternoon. Rickey's biggest task this week will be to hold the young pitchers in check. He expects to have them in such shape by the weekend-end that they can "put something on" the ball when the regulars have next Monday.

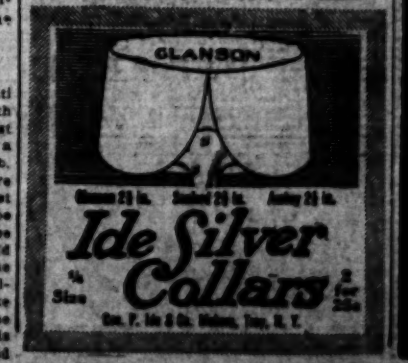

Wray Accepts Harvard's Terms.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 14.—Coach James S. Wray will continue in charge of Harvard's baseball team. Announcement was made today that the Australian professional and the Harvard Athletic Association had agreed on terms, and he had been signed for several years at a salary of $10,000 a year. Wray, who was recruited from his alma mater, is known to be a hard worker and a good manager. He has been in charge of the Harvard team for several years, and has won several championships. He is expected to lead the Harvard team to the top of the Eastern League this season.

No Miracle Needed.
SIR JOSEPH WARD likes a good story and he can also tell an amusing one. Here is a favorite of his: A certain Maori "witch doctor" was held in great awe and reverence by the superstitious natives. This man claimed that he was by his magic enabled to walk upon the water and one day his disciples went with him to the seashore, expecting to see him perform the miracle. When they reached the water's edge the man turned to his followers. "Do you really believe that I can walk on the sea?" he asked in solemn tones. "Yes, yes," they replied reverently. "We do." "Then," said the witch doctor, as he walked coolly away, "there is no need for me to do it."—London Evening Standard.

The Jarr Family

Written for the Post-Dispatch
By ROY L. MCCARDELL

The Two Misses Cackleberry Seize Another Assyrian Who Was First in Bargain Counter Rush and They Get a Shock.

As quick as Mrs. Jarr and the two Misses Cackleberry had been in charging at double-quick upon the time limit sale of taffeta suits, a stout and formidable—viewed from the back—female was quicker. Instead of taking time to push over the floorwalker, who barred the way, this woman had ducked under his outstretch arms—for, previous to the moment the taffetas "went on sale," Mr. Ferdinand Floss, the assistant buyer and floorwalker, had stood guarding the approach to the bargain counter to keep off the "soopers," like a traffic policeman. Of course, the other approach had been guarded, too, but at the other avenue of approach stout male porters had been placed. Still it was all the same to the lady Assyrians and Macedonians and other militant shoppers. They bowed over the porters, even as Mr. Floss was bowed over, and they punctured them with their French heels just as they punctured Mr. Floss. But to chronicle the bargain battle from its more thrilling and important incident, a large but agile woman of middle age had made a run around the field play, and instead of tackling and downing the guarding floor walker as Mrs. Jarr and the Misses Cackleberry had done, this wily veteran of a thousand bargain rushes had deftly ducked under his arms and reached the taffetas first. She had seized the first suit that suited her and had tucked it under her right arm, and then the whole mass formation of the women bargain battlers had surged up to and surrounded the counter from all sides. Those who had been forefront in the charge had but achieved a fatal success, for such was the press from all sides that their arms were pinioned either to the counter in front or against those jammed nearest to them. There they stayed and struggled with the taffeta suits in plain sight and not a hand that could touch them—save the seasoned veteran who had been first in the brunt of battle and had grabbed a garment and had it under her arms ere the packed mass of women

He Had Often Heard About Him.
It was a contested will case, and one of the witnesses, in the course of giving his evidence, described the testator minutely.
"Now, sir," said the counsel for the defense, "I suppose we may take it, from the flattering description you have given of the testator, his good points, and his personal appearance generally, that you were intimately acquainted with him?"
"Him?" exclaimed the witness. "He was no acquaintance of mine!"
"Indeed! Well, then, you must have observed him very carefully whenever you saw him?" pursued the counsel.
"I never saw him in my life!" was the reply.
This prevarication, as counsel thought it was too much, and he said:
"Now, now, don't trifle with the court, please! How, I ask you, could you, in the name of goodness, describe him so minutely if you never saw him or never knew him?"
"Well," replied the witness, and the smile which overspread his features extended to the faces of those in court, "you see, I married his widow."
Mean.
THIS suit I have on was made to order.
"For whom?"
Everything.
HOW'S everything in your house?" asked Smith.
"Oh," replied Brown, "she's all right."

It Should.
It certainly makes a great difference.
"What does?"
"My new adding and subtracting machine."
Well, Rather.
WHO brought up the rear in the circus parade?
"The trained skunks."
"Gee! That was a strong finish."
